dear subscriber

The TEDC since inception in 1997 has adopted a non-political, macro-economic, thoroughly researched and substantiated, factually-based, commercial and innovative approach to the role of developing a sustainable Tweed economy.

This approach adopted by TEDC is fundamental and critical to developing the policies, strategies and action plans necessary to deliver future social and economic sustainability for the people of Tweed shire.

board of directors 2010

Tweed Economic Development Corporation welcomes the new Board of Directors for 2010 which includes the re-election of Ron Ford, Harry Williams and Robert Wesener. We would like to welcome our new director Tony Mitchell, from Stacks the Law Firm who have offices locally in Murwillumbah, and Tweed Heads. Tony will bring to the Board a mixture of commercial legal experience and in depth knowledge of the business environment from employment issues to OH & S. The Board of Directors 2010 hosts expertise in a variety of industries and fields with their leadership ensuring a successful new year. Read more.

new logo and website

The TEDC moves into 2010 with a new look and feel! The logo has a new colour scheme which is clean and contemporary and presents a fresh, optimistic confident and a corporate strength. The TEDC website has been designed to compliment and build upon existing corporate branding. The site is an exciting web experience that is both modern and contemporary. tweed shire council redevelopment group

TEDC has been asked to join a TSC redevelopment group who are developing plans to upgrade facilities at the South Murwillumbah tourist precinct including Budd Park, the adjoining World Heritage Rainforest Centre, revetment of the adjoining river bank and the embellishment of linkages between the main Murwillumbah Business Centre and the South Murwillumbah tourism precinct.

The proposed upgrading of facilities in South Murwillumbah will incorporate some aspects of the proposed TEDC Tweed River Nature Link concept, and hopefully encourage private enterprise interests to embrace the broader "River Link" opportunity. Read more.

tedc to address regional development board

In early February, the RDA Board representing the Northern Rivers Region will be meeting in the Tweed to gather information to inform its Regional Plan to be completed by June 2010. The TEDC has been invited to make a presentation on matters that are a high priority to the economic development and sustainability of the Tweed.

business insights well received on the tweed

The first seminar held in the Tweed region was a great success for all involved with over 150 guests attending - A big thank you to all who attended. The presentation by our guest speakers Ben Faranda (Lecturer and Facilitator at Southern Cross University) and Tim Bond (Principal and Creative Director of The
